the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million (1990–2000) and is projected to increase by a further 1.5 million by 2020 (Office for National Statistics 2001). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase by 2.5 million by 2020 in the USA (U.S. Census Bureau 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of older people. The World Health Organization (WHO) has developed a 'Global Strategy on Ageing and Health' (WHO 1999) and the United Nations has developed a 'World Report on Ageing and Health' (United Nations 2002). The WHO report states that 'the challenge of ageing is to ensure that people live longer, healthier, and more active lives' (WHO 1999, p. 1).

The WHO report also states that 'the challenge of ageing is to ensure that people live longer, healthier, and more active lives' (WHO 1999, p. 1).
